It will be a matter of local interest to know that to prevent the introduction of yellow fever into Illinois, Dr. John H. Rauch, of the State Board of Health, has sent the following notice to the mayors of East St. Louis, Chester, Grand Tower, Cairo, Mound City, Metropolis, Golconda, Elizabethtown and Shawneetown, yesterday: "For the purpose of preventing the introduction of yellow fever into this state, and to promote the sanitation of the Mississippi and Ohio rivers, you will please hereafter not allow a steamboat to land, coming from below Cairo, at your port, unless upon presentation of a clean certificate of inspection as to cargo, passengers, officers and crew, signed and indorsed by the Inspector of the National Board of Health."

July 18—d1m

The first collision on the I. D. & S. R. Y since the opening of the road took place this morning at about 2 o'clock, at Dana, Ind., about 76 miles east of this city. A west bound freight train had backed in on a sidetrack, when the east bound express train, which left Decatur at 10:40 last night, going at full speed, ran into the freight engine, causing a very destructive wreck. Fortunately no one was injured except the passenger engine fireman, who, in jumping from the cab, broke one of his legs, but both locomotives were badly smashed. The passenger train due here at 4 o'clock this morning from the east, did not arrive until 10 o'clock this forenoon.

A LARGE quantity of glazed sewer pipe for the Prairie street improvement is piled up near the north side of the tabernacle. Will Close says he passed along there this morning and noticed a little boy in one of the pipes sobbing bitterly. Will stopped to inquire the cause of so many weeps, and found that the little shaver, in a playful mood, had attempted to crawl through the pipe, and in doing so got wedged in. He had been there an hour. Will got him out in a few moments, and then the little fellow ran off in a hurry, not stopping long enough even to thank his Good Samaritan.

A MEETING of the executive committee of the Decatur Garfield and Arthur Club was held last evening in the consultation room of J. Millikin & Co.'s Bank. All the members were present, except one, who is absent from the city. Jas. Millikin was elected permanent chairman of the committee, and J. R. Mosser secretary. After the transaction of business of minor importance, preliminary arrangements were made for holding a series of mass meetings in Decatur, which will be addressed by a number of distinguished orators of the Republican faith.

THE receipt of new wheat at Shellabarger & Co.'s mill, the past week, has averaged about 1500 bushels daily. The firm has a storage capacity for about 60,000 bushels, and has now on hand between 10,000 and 13,000 bushels. Farmers have been receiving 85 cents per bushel for their wheat, and one man yesterday, for an extra quality, got 86 cents. About the middle of August the wheat will be coming in lively.

GOSSARD services to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, 26 Merchant st., up stairs, to be conducted by George A. Henderson. The usual railway service will be held in the waiting rooms of the Union depot at 5 o'clock. The services both at the association rooms and depot have been well attended, considering the warm weather, and every one is cordially invited to attend them.

AND now Dr. Walston has caught the improvement fever, and will soon be installed into an office of his own near his residence on North Main street. It will be a two-story frame, 15 by 40 feet in size; will probably be lighted by gas, and have all the modern conveniences complete. It will be put up on the north side of East North street, facing south, within half a block of the street car line.

W. H. BEACH informs us that a grand Sunday School Congress will be held at the fair grounds at Hillsboro, Ill., on July 28th, Tuesday of next week, under the auspices of the American S. S. Union. A considerable number of the most distinguished men in the work will be present and address the assembly. Dr. Goodwin, of Decatur, is put down in the programme for a 20 minutes' talk.

On alighting from a buggy recently, Dan Jones injured one of his ankles so badly that he has lost the use of one of his feet, and is now confined to his room on Merchant street. He is in great pain, and claims to be very lonesome. Here's a chance for the humanitarians of Decatur to give an exhibition of genuine sympathy. Dan's latching is always out.

LAST evening Policeman Acker put a man in the first ward cooler for creating a row in the vicinity of the Union depot. This morning the prisoner had his breakfast brought to him, and while the parties in charge were waiting for him to put the grub under his vest, the prisoner took a case knife and cut a hole in the floor, and made his escape. He cannot be found to-day.

The re-organized reform club will hold an open business meeting at the tabernacle to-night, after which Rev. G. K. Woodward will address the assembly on the subject of temperance. All are invited to be present.

THE REPUBLICAN has just printed 5,000 quarter-sheet hangers, to be used in advertising the great soldiers' reunion to be held here on October 6th and 7th. The three sheet colored posters will be ready to be hung up in a few days.

TAX Decatur Martial Band, composed of six members, made its first appearance in public this afternoon in a grand street parade. The boys looked well and made splendid music.

Attention, Boys! The members of the Boys' Garfield and Arthur Club, and all persons wishing to become members, are requested to meet at the Reform Club Room, on Tuesday evening, July 27, 1880, at 8 o'clock, sharp.

July 19—d&w1f

Quite a serious and frightful accident took place on North Water street, on yesterday afternoon, between two and three o'clock. Mr. Reuben Nims was driving slowly northward, when Israel Gates, aged about 10 years, son of Mr. Edward Gates, who has long been in the employ of Robt. McClelland as the driver of the coal wagon, ran out to steal a ride. The top of the buggy was down, and as young Gates attempted to get a good hold of the rear of the buggy, he tried to throw his right leg over the top of the axle, and in doing so his foot slipped and went through the spokes of the revolving wheel. Instantly there was a snap like the report of a pistol, and the boy screamed in an agony of pain. Fortunately Mr. Nims immediately stopped the vehicle, a crowd collected, and it was discovered that the boy's right leg was broken above and below the knee, and that that member and part of his body was twisted part way round the axle. He was extricated from his perilous position and taken to his home on Mason street, where Dr. Walston attended him, dressing the wound and turning the patient over to the care of Dr. J. S. King, the family physician. Besides being broken in two places, the leg is otherwise badly injured, the flesh about the knee joint being frightfully torn and the bones wrenched. It may be that the limb will be saved by careful attention, but it will be many weeks before the lad will be able to be around again. It was a very distressing occurrence, and will serve as a timely warning to many Decatur boys who are in the daily habit of running after buggies and wagons and jumping on behind for the sole purpose of stealing a ride. Don't do it any more, boys, or you may meet the sad fate of poor Israel, who, if he gets well, may possibly be a cripple for life.

Where the Grain Goes.

Captain John A. Barnes furnishes us today the Toledo Produce Exchange report of yesterday, from which we extract the following items, which will show where the grain goes: On Friday 1,274,523 bushels of wheat were received at Toledo, New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Detroit; 1,087,366 bushels corn at same cities; 146,535 bushels of oats at same cities; From Toledo on Friday 739,423 bushels of wheat were shipped away; also 947,109 bushels of corn, and 83,000 bushels of oats. A fair yield of spring wheat on the area sowed, will most likely make an aggregate excess of twenty to twenty-five millions bushels over the crop of 1879.

A Day at the Fair Grounds.

We were all boys and girls yesterday at the fair grounds; not a single person present but did their whole duty and made a full hand, not only in the arduous labor of pitching quoits, playing cards, black man and blind man's buff, but all showed a willingness, if not the capacity, to consume all the chicken, pies, cakes and other eatables that were on hand in the prodigious supply, thanks to the untiring efforts of the ladies. There were present Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Foster and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Cloyd and family, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Barnes and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cox and daughter, Mrs. Antrim and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Swearingen, Mr. and Mrs. P. Loeb, Mrs. Cassaway and daughters, Josie and Ploy; Dr. and Mrs. Bills, Mrs. Boynton and son, Harry, Mrs. Cook, Misses Mattie Dressback and Cossie Reed, and Mr. Harry Foster. The day was delightful; the fair grounds never seemed pleasanter, and happiness and the spirit of fun were evident in the countenances and movements of all. The dignified vied with the little ones in seeing who could approach nearest to childhood's simplicity, and each and every one eagerly entered into every game or play proposed. As evening's shades began to envelope hill and dale, the thoughtful ladies of the party called us again to the festive board, which under their manipulation did not show any evidences of depletion. Again the "looked troops fought nobly," and ere the supper was over, our genial friend, Capt. Foster, surprised the party by "setting up" the ice cream for the entire party. If we ever do have to go to jail we want some such liberal-hearted man as the Captain to be there to feed us—may his shadow never grow less. Not until night began to throw her mantle over animated nature did our goodly company think of home and the dusty streets of our city. Reluctantly the party separated, firm in the belief that by their day's recreations and pleasures they had rolled back old time at least a twelve month; and the gentlemen present all acknowledge that for the pleasures of the day the credit and thanks are alone due the ladies—God bless them.

Rev. W. A. Reynolds, of Warrensburg, will preach at Stapp's Chapel to-morrow forenoon.

Shelbyville Union: Miss Mary Hardy, of Decatur, a niece of Mrs. T. L. Catherswood, was in town this week.

Miss Minnie Waggoner departed for Burlington, Iowa, on yesterday, and will be absent "quite a spell."

Mr. Orlando Powers, of Jacksonville, is in the city. His wife and family are enjoying a trip up the Great Father of Waters.

C. N. Walls, late editor of the Decatur Herald, is in the city to-day looking after his interests here. He is in apparent good health and spirits.

Dr. Goodwin will preach at the union religious services to be held at the U. B. Church on Sunday evening. His theme will be "Politics, Business and Religion."

Thos. Bivans has our thanks for a copy of the St. Paul and Minneapolis Pioneer Press, received last evening. The Decatur party of excursionists arrived at their destination safely, and are having a fine time.

Rev. G. W. Kent, who is to preach at the Universalist Church to-morrow, gave us a very agreeable call this forenoon, accompanied by D. L. Bunn, Esq. Rev. Kent is a young man of fine address, and is making many friends among our people.

Uncle John Patterson, the keeper of the candy and fruit stand near the post office, had another severe fainting spell this forenoon, but speedily recovered by the fortunate assistance of Dr. Walston, who was called to attend him. Mr. Patterson had fallen down in his door perfectly helpless, and looked deathly pale.

Lincoln Herald: Col. Wyatt has received a letter from Gov. J. P. St. John, of Kansas, in which he says that he fears he will not be able to attend the coming meeting at Decatur, but it is thought that arrangements will be made so that he can attend. He is one of the most enthusiastic of temperance men.

Hon. John H. Oberly, democratic nominee for secretary of state, and also a member of the Illinois Railway and Warehouse Commission, arrived in the city at 11:30 a. m., from Springfield, and was met at the train by I. A. Buckingham, W. E. Nelson, S. S. Jack and Jesse Leforgee.

The party got into Taylor's carriage, and got out at the St. Nicholas Hotel, where Mr. Oberly dined with a number of friends. Mr. Oberly is addressing a mass meeting at the court house this afternoon.

Rev. W. H. Prestley and wife, R. P. Lytle and wife, J. H. Lewis and wife, James Freeman and wife, D. H. Heilman and wife, John Freeman and wife, Chas. Brown and wife, J. K. Warren and wife, F. F. Randolph and wife, Mrs. Templeton, Mrs. Murphy, and a number of young folks, engaged in a very enjoyable basket picnic on yesterday afternoon, at Hickory Grove, the country home of Mr. V. Barber, four miles north of the city. The party drank Jersey milk and ate golden Jersey butter, and all the substantial and delicacies of the season.

A New Order.

At the hall of Progress ve Lodge, No. 29, last night, L. L. Haworth, assisted by Rev. T. T. Kendrick and E. P. Vail, organized a colored lodge of Royal Templars of Temperance, with a membership of 17 ladies and gentlemen. Following are the officers of the new order:

G. D.—Annie Downs.

Sentinel—Alex. Isabel.

The lodge has not yet been given a number; but this and other preliminary matters will be attended to at the meeting to be held next Tuesday evening.

To Buy Goods Cheap,

is the aim of all, and their duty as well as their right. To meet these requirements Linn & Scruggs have spared neither time nor labor. Their efforts have been to sell a great many goods at small profits, and this they have accomplished. But they cannot afford under these circumstances to have the time of their salesmen taken up in exchanging goods, besides incurring additional losses on the goods exchanged. Those who deal with us are not willing to buy goods of us "out of order." Why then should they try to force them upon us, and sometimes by a threat to deal elsewhere if we refuse their demands. This threat springs from ignorance and selfishness, and will not change our purpose in refusing to take goods back, when the fault is with the purchaser. And those who advertise to take back goods indiscriminately, must necessarily have a ragged stock; or sell them to others as perfect; or if they lose, they are compelled to make up their losses on others, unless they get more for their goods in the beginning than they are worth. It is hardly possible that we should be always right, and we say again, as we did in a published statement sometime ago, that we guarantee to take everything back should it not prove as represented, whether in quality, color, or price, or where the mistake is with us.

Death Resulting from Lockjaw.

It was at noon on an early spring day when a bold, bad boy went home from school and said: "Dear mother, mayn't I go in my bare feet this afternoon? None of the boys wear shoes in the spring." But his mother said: "No, my darling boy, I cannot let you go bare-footed, and if you tease me about it, I will wattle your tender cuticle with the unkind end of a cheerful skate strap." So the bold, bad boy closed the debate with a sigh, and when the years and days were called, his motion did not prevail, and the house soon after adjourned. But the boy went out of the yard by the alley-way and took off his shoes and stockings, and hid them behind the wood pile, and scudded merrily on to school, and everybody admired his fat, muddy bare feet. But when he got out of school the ground was covered with snow, and he had a very solemn time hippity-hopping back home, and when he got there he couldn't tell the wood pile from a hay stack, and his shoes might as well have been in the middle of the ocean for all the good they did him. So he went into the house, and, after a great deal of filustering, he made his report, which was tailed, and the house went into a committee of the whole on the state of the boy. His mother took the floor, and after an exciting and highly interesting session, the committee rose and the house adjourned, while the boy rubbed such portions of his anatomy as he could reach, and framed a bill for the more perfect prevention of chilblains. At Ferris's shoe store there are boys' shoes so beautiful, good and cheap, that no boys need go barefoot and consequently not get nails in their feet, of which the result is oftentimes lockjaw.
